

Peripatetic Music Lessons

Learning to play a musical instrument can raise a student's confidence and self-esteem and the skills and knowledge gained from lessons may also benefit their academic work.

Shoeburyness High School offers Peripatetic Instrument Lessons to students of all abilities. Lessons are either 15 or 30 minute duration and there are 10 lessons per term. The cost of lessons is as follows:

10 x 15 minute individual lesson:	£80.00 per term
10 x 30 minute individual lesson:	£160.00 per term

Guitar

Lessons take place during the school day and it is possible that your child will need to come out of a lesson to attend.

It is the student's responsibility to ensure that they attend their music lesson at the correct time each week. Timetables will be sent to students at the start of each term and copies will be on display on the noticeboard in the Music Department. Please remind your child to attend and encourage them to practise at home.

Lessons missed due to the teacher's absence will be rearranged during the term or refunded. If the student chooses to go on a school trip, lessons will not be made up and unfortunately lessons missed due to illness can also not be made up as peripatetic teachers are contracted to the school for an allocated time and need to be paid regardless.

Students must ensure that they catch up with any work missed in class and complete any homework that has been set.

Lessons are strictly payable in advance and can only be terminated at the end of a term.
