Appendix 1: SEN information report for each school	5

This SEN policy sets out our approach to SEN across SECAT The appendix sets out the SEN information report for each school.

1. Aims

Our SEN policy aims to:

- Set out how our trust will support and make provision for students with special educational needs (SEN) across all of our schools
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for students with SEN

The SEN information report is included in the appendix of this policy. This will be adapted by each school in the trust to explain the specific approach, learning environment and support available at the school.

2. Legislation and guidance

This policy and information report is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability \(SEND\) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for students with SEN and disabilities
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEN co-ordinators (SENCOs) and the SEN information report

This policy also complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

3. Definitions

A student has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability that calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

Appendix 1: SEN information report for Shoeburyness High School

1.1 The kinds of SEN that are provided for

Our school currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

- Communication and interaction, for example, autistic spectrum disorder, Asperger syndrome, speech and language difficulties
- Cognition and learning, for example, dyslexia, dyspraxia
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD)
- Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties, epilepsy
- Moderate/severe/profound and multiple learning difficulties

1.2 Identifying students with SEN and assessing their needs

We will assess each student's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. We will also glean information from primary schools during our transition process. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all students and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a student is recorded as having SEN.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the student and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

1.3 Consulting and involving students and parents

Our transition process heavily involves the students. We meet students at their primary school as well as during the Transition Day. If additional visits are required for some higher-level need students this can be accommodated.

We offer Parent Forum meetings during the year which will have a particular focus, but always accompanied by tea and biscuits.

We will have an early discussion with the student and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the student's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account the parents' concerns
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the student's record and given to their parents.

We will formally notify parents when it is decided that a student will receive SEN support.

1.4 Assessing and reviewing students' progress towards outcomes

We will follow the graduated approach and the 4-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

SENCOs to carry out a clear analysis of the student's needs.

This will draw on:

- Teacher assessments and experience of the student
- The student's previous progress and attainment and behaviour
- Specific assessments which can drill down into SEND categories of need
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The student's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant

The assessment will be reviewed regularly.

All teachers and support staff who work with the student will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions, and their impact on the student's progress.

1.5 Supporting students moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the student is moving to. We will agree with parents and students which information will be shared as part of this.

The transition process into Shoeburyness High School includes.

SENCO visits to primary schools to meet students and primary staff

Transition Day for primary school students

Additional visits to Shoeburyness High School if required

Liaison with Local Authorities on EHCP consultations

The transition process out of Shoeburyness High School includes;

Transition time at the college/school student will be attending

1.6 Our approach to teaching students with SEN

Quality First teaching underpins the delivery of our curriculum to our students.

1.7 Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

1.13 Support for improving emotional and social development

Students can access their Pastoral Year Manager should they have any concerns, and many of them have support from LSAs throughout the day and are allocated a mentor to talk with on a regular basis. They may also be referred to the in-house counsellor or outside counsellors with the parents permission.

We provide support for students to improve their emotional and social development in the following ways:

- Students with SEN are encouraged to be part of the school council
- Students with SEN are also encouraged to be part of all clubs to promote teamwork/building friendships etc.

We have a zero tolerance approach to bullying.

1.14 Working with other agencies

We support parents and students by making referrals to a wide range of external agencies from the medicals, social care and mental health areas.

1.15 Complaints about SEN provision

Complaints about SEN provision in our school should be made to the SENCOs in the first instance. They will then be referred to the school's complaints policy.

The parents of students with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:
