Performing Arts – Tech Award in Performing Arts

Have you missed working with others?

Do you want to spend more time away from your computer?

Working in the studios!

Lots of practical work opportunities

Do you want to perform in shows?

Do you like working creatively?

Never before has the arts played such an important role in our lives, the past few years has taught us that we need creativity to help keep us motivated, to inspire us, to entertain us. We have used the arts in a way that allows us to connect with others, communicate in a wide range of styles and most importantly entertain.

Performing Arts is a course where you can study and use your creative skills to learn, create and develop a range of performances. This course is graded at Distinction*, Distinction, Merit, Pass (level 1 and level 2) and the emphasis is placed on practical work accompanied by a portfolio of knowledge which can be presented in a variety of ways, allowing you as a student to present your work in a way that suits you. There is one controlled assessment where students submit a series of logs and practical performance to the exam board.

While studying this course you will get the opportunity to study a range of different performances and experience the buzz of the creative world through workshops, visits and shows.

- Studying Musical Theatre BA Hons at Plymouth University

'Studying performing arts at Shoebury was the best choice I made during my studies at school. I chose both the GCSE and the year 12 and 13 Performing Arts courses. Doing so gave me the skills and confidence to audition for musical theatre courses and achieve a place at university where I am continuing my studies.'

Beau Hurley

- Studying Performing Arts BA Hons at Institute for Contemporary Theatre - Brighton

'I left Shoebury to join Bimm Institute ICTheatre in Brighton last September. I have always enjoyed performing arts because it's an amazing way to express yourself through so many forms of dance, movement, singing or acting. At Shoebury especially there was always something extra curricular that you could dive into if you enjoyed it. In addition the GCSE and A level courses offered a huge range of skills you can develop such as Musical Theatre, studying practitioners, devising, monologues, solo singing and more. This knowledge has prepared me for my studies at university.'

Which subjects were beneficial for specific skills?
Performing Arts – Acting, Singing, Dancing, Confidence and how to deal with written work. English – Shakespeare Business – To learn about finances and budgeting as well as maybe the opportunity to see if I could realistically put a business into my life plan. Catering – Always handy being able to cook! Maths – Numbers in life for being self employed and dealing with invoices and taxes.

What are your fondest memories of SHS?
All shows, classes and opportunities with Performing Arts! A few favourites were the Royal Albert Hall and Happy Days and of course Mamma Mia as my first production! I also loved being a part of the school sports teams.

Do you have any words of advice for our students?
No matter what or who gets in your way, if you have a dream, chase it.

What skills do you use?
The skills I use in day to day life are very similar at work. Be a team player, be nice to everyone: it will be a better and happier reflection on you. Always be confident within yourself and learn to love and accept yourself. That's never easy as a child but I think it is, you go through a lot and learn a lot about yourself. At work, I use my three disciplines of performing (Acting, Singing and Dancing) but that is niche and is dependent on each person and role.

I was head boy and this helped with my communication skills and deal with situations from students in order to help people come to an agreement and make an impact on the school. It was also a privilege to represent the students and school at different events as well as being recognised and trusted by students and teachers for the role. Work hard and be committed to everything!

What's the dream?
To be able to continue to further my career and reach new heights within the industry as a performer and creative.

SHOEBURYNNESS HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI

HEIDI

What skills do you use?
Singing! A musical skill that I developed throughout my time at Shoebury. This is what I chose to do for a career so with me luck! Other skills that help me navigate the business elements of the music industry are communication skills, effective collaborations with others, and as much as I hate it - maths does help with building a business in the real world. Like when I have to do my tax return.

Which subjects were beneficial for specific skills?
Music and Performing Arts was such a huge turning point for me. I wasn't naturally academic but my teachers helped me realise that performing and creating is what I wanted to do. On top of that, as a songwriter English really helped me connect with words and allowed me to express myself. That 1 year of A level English (I really did make a huge difference in my songwriting ability).

Do you have any words of advice for our students?
The only person you should compare yourself to is the person you were yesterday. Be bold. Don't change who you are for other people. Be unapologetically yourself and you will find your people.

What are your fondest memories of SHS?
The performing department holds a lot of my memories at school. The School Productions mainly. Especially all the times I fell over on stage in front of everyone! Also, the sporting fixtures in my earlier years of school were always great fun.

HEIDI is a Singer/ Songwriter who has been releasing music and growing her social media platform. She continues to release music after signing her first record deal with Universal Music Group and 3beat.

Creating leaders....

The skills that our students gain while studying Performing Arts are not only transferable throughout life and in a range of careers, but they have also helped some of our students reach leadership roles within Shoeburyness High School.

We are extremely proud that every academic year at least one of our Performing Arts students has successfully gained a place as Head Boy, Head Girl or one of the Deputy roles. Their Performing Arts training has helped them to fulfil the role with confidence, professionalism and to collaboratively work alongside the rest of their leadership team.

How has studying Performing Arts helped senior leadership team member Megan Shepherd throughout her time at Shoebury?

Studying Performing Arts as a GCSE option really improved my confidence which enabled me to present myself as a candidate for Head Girl to all year groups as well as being interviewed by the Senior Leadership Team members. Without the performance skills that I developed in our lessons, I wouldn't have had the courage to express myself as I did!

Performing Arts – Tech Award in Performing Arts

Subject Information:

Our exam board is Pearson BTEC.

The course is 60% internally assessed and 40% externally assessed.

The course is graded from a level 1 Pass up to a level 2 Distinction*

Module structure

The course is split into a range of internally assessed units and one externally assessed unit.

Year 10 – You will study two units; Exploring the Performing Arts and Developing Skills and Techniques in the Performing Arts. The internal units are assessed through your practical work and portfolio of knowledge for each unit, the main focus of these units is to gain a broad range of practical experience and training within Performing Arts. These units are then marked by your class tutor and verified by the exam board.

Year 11 – After completing your internal units in year 10 you will then work on your externally assessed unit which is called Responding to a Brief. The external unit is split between practical work and logs/evaluations which are completed under controlled conditions. This work is then marked externally by the exam board.

Don't just take our word for it.....

Hear from some of our current year 11, 12 and year 13 Performing Arts and Acting students

Victoria: 'The reason I chose to take Performing Arts is because I plan on involving it in my career path one way or another, whether it be teaching it to others or becoming an actor. Performing Arts allows you to interact with others that have the same interest, and you can make more friends from working in groups. The teachers make the subject fun to learn, and I promise that you will enjoy it!'

Chris: "I chose performing arts because it is a subject where I really get to show my creativity and acting skills in front of others. It is also very fun to interact with other students in the class and work together as a team to create an impressive performance. I have gained a lot of confidence to act on stage because of the support the teachers and pupils have given me in the department, and I have enjoyed doing performing arts as a subject and as a hobby too."

Gina: 'Acting allows you to be someone completely different and you can stray away from reality. Dancing is a way you can express yourself and your emotions, it makes you feel free. Performing Arts can also help you with singing. You can achieve your goals due to hard work and dedication! But knowing you won't sing your favourite songs out of tune, actually feels pretty great in my opinion.'

Daisy: 'I chose performing arts as it is something I enjoy doing but it's also a really good way to help build confidence, not only when performing but with lots of other things. It's a lesson I always look forward to having because it's lots of fun and all the teachers are very supportive so it's a lovely environment to work in.'

Lana: 'I chose performing arts because I love to perform. I love to sing, act and dance. When I joined in year 7, the performing arts department have always been so welcoming. The teachers are amazing! They put in so much of their own time into making school a better place for us. They spend their weekends at school to help us get the best possible shows we can. It's not just a department. It's a family. Everyone's always so supportive and caring, no matter whether it's performing arts related or not. Would highly recommend taking Performing Arts, because it can help you to get into a range of different jobs in the future and it can also help your confidence too! You learn so many different skills from taking Performing Arts.'

Cadie: 'My favourite thing about Performing Arts in year 10 is how no one will judge you. You can be as free and happy as you want and can be as weird as you want within dance, acting or even singing. It's a lot of freedom from other lessons and it's always good vibes from not only the students but the teachers as well.'

Kingsley: 'I enjoy studying acting because it has made me believe that anything is possible. It has allowed me to push myself out of my comfort zone and explore new things I don't normally do, without feeling judged, and I love it. I enjoy studying acting at GCSE level because I've learnt new skills and it gives me the opportunity to perform in front of an audience which allows me to gain more confidence as I continue down my path with acting.'
