GCSE Film Studies

Subject Information.

Our exam board is Eduqas. There are two exams at the end of the two year course and one Coursework component:

Component 1: Key Developments in US Film

Component 2: Global Film: Narrative, Representation and Film Style

Component 3: Production

GCSE Film Studies

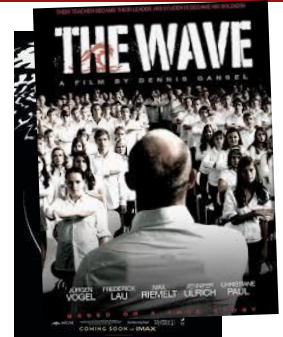

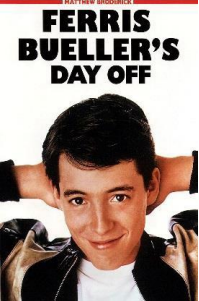

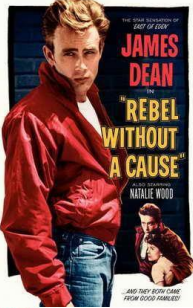

Exam Content

Students will study mainstream American films from the past and the present as well as global films, both non-English language and English language.

The study of film form is intended to enable learners to produce high quality analytical exam responses, as well as provide them with a filmmaker's perspective on the films they study and the production skills to create their own.

GCSE Film Studies

Coursework

Students will also complete a coursework component, creating production material utilising industry skills including screen writing, camerawork and editing.

The production may take the form of:

- either a filmed extract from a genre film (2 minutes to 2½ minutes)
- or an extract from a screenplay for a genre film (800 to 1000 words).

GCSE Film Studies

Career Progression

Possible careers following Film Studies include:

Directing / Screen Writing / Camerawork / Cinematography /
Art design and set dressing / Editing and other post production roles including special effects / Journalism and film criticism

Alex studied A Level Film Studies and developed a passion for television and film props, spending a lot on his own time practising and learning techniques.

Alex has worked on a number of television shows as an editor, but recently, after a lot of hard work, his skills as a prop designer have been recognised and he has now worked on film productions such as 1917 and the recent Star Wars film Rise of Skywalker.

GCSE Film Studies

University Progression

Lots of our pupils choose to apply their skills and knowledge to degree level study rather than go straight into employment. We are fortunate to send a number of pupils every year, to enjoy the university experience.
